

Mama Snow's August 2026 Tomato Plants Sale in Oviedo, Florida

Note: Sow seeds indoor in early August, sell/transplant within two weeks from end of August to first week in September in time for fall harvest. Allow two-weeks window for tomato plants sale.
Snow's Favorite Hybrid Cherry Tomato Varieties	Other tomato varieties from my seed collection (1 pot each)
T1 Sungrape 109 – Japanese hybrid	T19
T2 Golden F1 – Japanese hybrid	T20
T3 Suncherry Extra Sweet F1 – Japanese hybrid	T21
T4	T22
T5	T23
T6	T24
Snow's Favorite Oblong and Beefsteak Tomato Varieties	T25
T7	T26
T8	T27
T9	T28
T10	T29
T11 Pineapple beefsteak: heirloom, I, citrusy fruity flavor	T30
T12 Sart Roloise – beefsteak: heirloom, meaty, HFY, I	T31
New tomato varieties that I am testing in my garden this fall	T32
T13	T33
T14	T34
T15	T35
T16	T36
T17	Code: I = Indeterminate, D = Determinate, CR = crack resistant, HT – Heat-tolerant, HFY – High fruit yield, RRKN – Resistant to Root Knot Nematode
T18

Tomatoes I have tested in my garden and will never grow them ever again in this life time

Tomatoes I like to eat, BUT NOT TO GROW due to disease issues, plant growth, excessive cracking due to excessive rainfall, not sweet enough, and/or poor fruit production rate. Cherry tomato needs to be as sweet or sweeter than my favorite Japanese hybrid varieties or else it would not be sweet enough for me to waste my time to grow them a second time in my life.

1. Green Zebra – leaf wilting issues
2. Tomato Tom – leaf rot issues
3. Black Cherry – cracking issue, not sweet
4. SunOrange Garden – Japanese hybrid cherry tomatoes – very sweet, but fruits are small in size and the skin is just too thick for my preference
- 5.

Tomatoes I DISLIKE/DETEST eating. I dislike any tomato varieties that reminds me of the boring beefsteak tomatoes at the grocery markets, tomatoes that has no significant flavor, tasted bland, dull, and or pasty.

1. Brown Sugar beefsteak – very poor fruit production
2. Orange Icicle oblong – pasty, bland, and dull tasting
- 3.